

Strand News Releases

Advanced Functions and Easier Integration: Strand Releases Strand Enterprise Solution version 8.0

June 4, 2008

COLUMBIA, MO – Strand has launched the highly anticipated new version of its surveillance management software, Strand Enterprise Solution version 8.0. The new version of their surveillance management software has been made available to current and new customers immediately and includes many significant upgrades.

Strand Enterprise v.8.0 now includes the innovative Satellite Navigation System which allows users to access enterprise-wide diagnostic information from multiple locations worldwide using one URL. The Satellite Navigation System allows for distributed site management, while providing a ubiquitous viewing platform for stand-alone operations worldwide. Strand's latest archival enhancements include the Advanced Event Wrap feature that allows users to quickly capsule video by using variable frame search methodologies. Also included in the new version is an Enterprise Camera Check option, which offers snapshot views of every camera located within a firm's property in one easy to access area. Strand's personalized Matrix Vu now allows for additional camera images to be displayed on a single screen.

Strand's commitment to consumer usability and accessibility has inspired new Intuitive Integrator Set Up controls. By providing step-by-step assistance for the seamless addition of the Strand software on an end-users current network, Strand is cutting costs for their clients and minimizing confusion.

For further information about Strand Enterprise Solution version 8.0, visit Strand's website at: www.StrandUSA.com or call 630.388.0952

About Strand

Strand is an industry leading software development company recognized as an innovator in the Digital IP Surveillance market. Strand's Linux-based, fully integrated open architecture platform provides for the best-of-class, feature-rich, enterprise surveillance application. Strand's custom designed, web-based solution offers a unique user-centric experience tailor to the individual users' preferences. Strand provides exceptional value in utilizing and enhancing existing surveillance integration of Strand's ever-evolving, future-proof surveillance software. Strand expects and maintains the highest standard of quality in our surveillance products. Strand prides itself as the world's foremost customer service oriented digital IP surveillance software manufacturer and is trust by hundreds of organizations worldwide.